

THEATRE/THEATRE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Goat Track Theatre Company

presents

CRASH

Jared is irresponsible, reckless and always in a hurry and he's just been given a turbo-charged Commodore for his twentieth birthday. His sister by contrast, is the local school captain who has just finished year twelve with flying colours. The two of them have next to nothing in common until their father asks Jared to pick up Simone from the after party of the school formal.

Goat Track Theatre Company's new play explores the events leading up to a tragic car crash and the dire consequences that emerge for the individuals, friendships and families of a small regional town.

Crash is a visceral, intelligent play that richly deserves the attention of young people, their parents and the wider community. It does not moralise, nor does it "let us off the hook." It is a play exploding with ideas about personal responsibility that challenges its audience to reconsider the very notion of where their involvement in things begins and ends.

"Having been involved with road crashes and road safety education for many years, I have not seen a more powerful expression of the issue."

Inspector Tim Watkins Qld Fire Rescue 2008
